The flag is flying...

Driving home from our recent Members Meeting, I noticed something striking high above Windsor Castle. The Ceremonial Royal Standard was hoisted, illuminated against the night sky. It was flying because HM The King was hosting a State Dinner for the Sultan of Oman. Historically, that magnificent flag serves a very specific purpose: it is a bold, unmissable signal to everyone for miles around that the King is in residence.

It got me thinking... we serve the King of Kings. What if we had a massive, radiant banner waving proudly in the wind high above our church building, announcing to all of Iver that the Almighty King is in residence here? What would people think? How would our community react to such an unmistakable declaration?

While we might not fly a physical standard over our roofline, God has designed a far more personal and powerful way to make His presence known. In the Delirious song "I've Found Jesus", it speaks of the call "to raise a banner of truth and light". As followers of Jesus, we are His dwelling place. His Holy Spirit lives within us. When people interact with us throughout the week, do they see the "flag" flying? Do they recognise that the King is truly at home in our lives?

Let's be a church family that passionately proclaims His presence—not just when we gather together on Sundays, but in every sphere of our lives:

- In our homes: Cultivating peace, generosity, and genuine worship in our daily living.
- In our schools and workplaces: Reflecting His character through integrity, grace, and excellence.
- In our local community and beyond: Boldly living out our calling as salt and light—bringing hope, preserving truth, and shining His love into every dark corner.

Though... maybe we should still look into getting a church flag!

Lord Jesus, thank You that You have chosen to make Your home in us. Forgive us for the times we hide our faith, and give us courage to live lives that clearly proclaim Your presence. May our words, our choices, and our love for others be a banner raised high, drawing those around us in Iver and beyond to the King of Kings. Amen.

All is Calm
SATURDAY 21ST NOVEMBER
KING'S CHURCH BUILDING

While Iver's Christmas lights are being switched on, step inside King's Church for a quiet space to pause, breathe and be still; drop in for five minutes or stay for fifteen on Saturday 21st November between 3.30pm & 5.30pm, for gentle carols and moments of peace to prepare your heart for Christmas. More details coming soon...
